HILLS & LAKES ASS'N MET LAST WEEK

Although the 1942 outlook for our increasingly important recreational business presents many problems, the officers, the members and interested friends of the Oxford Hills and Lakes Region Association evidenced an unusual spirit of optimism at the association's second annual meeting held Tuesday, Jan. 27, at the Norway Municipal Court Room.

The results of the association's activities in 1941 reflect the growing importance of the association and the services it is rendering to the vacationist. Since its organization in 1938, the association has published 25,000 copies of its 32-page illustrated booklet which tells the complete story of Oxford County's recreational advantages, historic attractions, and scenic beauty. Through its advertising activity with newspapers, state publications and travel magazines, requests for the Oxford County booklets have been beyond expectation. Through the medium of travel bureaus, hotels, oil and transportation companies, the distribution of these popular booklets has reached coast-to-coast proportions, with requests originating in approximately six foreign countries.

Having operated on an annual budget of about $2,000 each year, the end of 1941 finds the financial picture far more encouraging as indicated by the treasurer's report of 1941.

Approximately 2,000 vacationists took advantage of the association's Regional Information Booth on Route 26 below Norway, and over 2500 callers visited the association's Information Booth at Bethel, which was made possible this year through the generous cooperation of the Bethel Chamber of Commerce. There are now on file at the secretary's office the names and addresses of over 1,000 individuals who have either made a direct mail request for the Oxford County booklet or other information about Oxford County!

1942 finds the following slate of officers elected:

President—Stanley I. Perham, W. Paris

Vice-President—F. Perley Flint, Magalloway and Bethel

Secretary—Robert W. Goodwin, Norway

Treasurer—Kenneth R. Willes, Norway

The association's Executive Council has been continued as follows:

Gerard S. Williams, Bethel
R. C. Hunt, Hebron
Earl D. Brown, Waterford
Brewster Page, Fryeburg
E. L. Tibbets, Locke Mills
George R. Eastman, S. Paris
Alden Chase, Bryant Pond
Stanley F. Pratt, Oxford
Frank E. Bean, Oxford
Douglas Fosdick, Rumford
John E. Sargent, Center Lovell
Kenneth S. Insole, Norway
Arthur A. Walker, Oxford

Few people realize the tremendous importance of the vacation business. Directly or indirectly its benefits reach everyone. Admittedly our every day life is most important, yet the vacation dollar is essential for the survival of many.

The 1942 prospect is not a bright one in many ways yet there is every reason to believe that it will be equal to the 1941 season. Families will be more anxious than ever to leave the larger cities and seek relaxation and safety near the smaller towns in the mountain and lake regions of Maine and New Hampshire. Those who may have traveled extensively in previous years will very likely seek seclusion

GOULD DEFEATS SO. PARIS IN THRILLER 27-24

Gould and South Paris put on another great show for basketball fans as the two teams battled at top speed in a bitterly fought contest here Wednesday evening. From the opening whistle the two aggressions opened up at an exceptionally fast clip with neither team letting up throughout the game. South Paris led by one point at the end of each of the first two periods. In the last half the lead changed hands a number of times with Gould forging ahead 22-20 as the third period ended.

Baskets by Paris' sensational forward, Prince, sent the visitors ahead again in the fourth quarter but Gould came back with free throw by Amato and two by Berry and a field goal by Richmond to gain a lead that they managed to hold until the final whistle blew.

The game throughout was rough but for speed and excitement it topped even last Friday's game with Fryeburg. Both teams left the floor nearly exhausted so hard was the play.

In the preliminary game the Gould J. Vs. took another beating from the Paris club this time 20-17. A final period rally could not overcome the visitors' earlier substantial lead.

This week-end Gould travels to Old Orchard for its annual encounter with the resorters who last year trimmed Gould by one point in an extra period game for their first victory over Gould since the series started.

REGISTRATION DAY MONDAY, FEB. 16

The third registration day will be held at Odeon Hall, Bethel, on Monday, Feb. 16, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. All men from the ages of 20 to 44 inclusive, who have not previously registered must register at this time.

Emphasizing that the Selective Service Registration on Feb. 16 will complete the registration of America's potential military manpower, Gen. James W. Hanson, State Director of Selective Service, points out that it affects every male resident of Maine between the military ages of 20 and 45 years, with a few exceptions made by Congress.

The requirement, Director Hanson explained, is that all male persons not previously registered, who attained their twentieth birthday on or before Dec. 31, 1941, and who have not attained their forty-fifth birthday on or before Feb. 16, 1942, must register as of their home address between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. on Feb. 16. In other words, all unregistered men who were born between Feb. 17, 1897, and Dec. 31, 1921, must register.

Men between 21 and 36 years of age who registered in 1940 and 1941 are not required to register again, the Director said.

While anyone who is unavoidably away from his home on Feb. 16 may register at the registration place most convenient on that day, Director Hanson said, he urged all Maine registrants to make every effort to register with their own local boards to avoid possible confusion in the future. Any person who must register while away from his home, he warned, should be careful to specify his home address so that his registration card may be forwarded promptly to his own local board.

V FOR VICTORY

Apparently the Citizen is the first to adopt a victory design for the "dashes" which separate articles in the newspaper. This was begun several weeks ago. The wreathed "V," incidentally, was the emblem of the "Victory" Liberty Loan during the first World War.

This newspaper also seems to be first in this section to give free subscriptions to men and women in the service of the U. S. armed forces. At the present time the list of such readers numbers nearly 40.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD MIRROR PICTURES

"It's done with mirrors." True enough, but it resulted in a fine snapshot. Show your individuality by taking unusual snapshots.

IT'S the unusual that attracts attention, and it's only necessary to use your eyes plus a little imagination and ingenuity to ferret out exceptional views and angles that lead to pleasing photographs. Perhaps you've never taken mirror pictures, and, if this be the case, you've missed a number of opportunities for interesting effects.

Probably the most important point of technique when taking pictures of this type is correct focus. When picturing the reflected image only, it is necessary to add the distance from the mirror to the subject to the distance from the mirror to the camera lens. For example, suppose the subject is three feet from the mirror, and the camera six feet from it. Then three plus six feet gives a total of nine feet—the distance for which you should focus your camera.

In most cases you will want to show both the subject and the reflection, and it is desirable to have them both sharp. To do that, place the subject quite close to the mirror and focus for the mirror itself. Then take the picture with the lens set at a small lens opening—f/16 or f/22. This is advantageous even if it means a longer exposure, for it gives greater depth of field and makes it easier to get both subject and reflection in sharp focus.

Care must also be exercised in placing your photo lamps. To illuminate the subject in front of the mirror, place one light quite close to the wall on which the mirror hangs. The other light should be placed near the camera to give general illumination. Watch that neither lamp reflects in the mirror or shines into the camera lens. Of course, you'll also want to be sure that the camera doesn't show in the mirror.

There are many possibilities for fun with reflections. Show a person carrying a tray with a mirror bottom. By the proper choice of camera position, you can obtain not only the image of the subject, but also an upside-down reflection. You'll be surprised at the interesting effects you will get in working out such "stunt" pictures, and it is such ingenuity that yields unusual pictures that show individuality.

LETTERS FROM BETHEL BOY IN HAWAII

Following are a few paragraphs from two letters recently received by Mrs. Sadie Robertson from her son Henry, who is stationed near Honolulu, Hawaii.

Dec. 26, 1941

Dear Ma, Mary, Bill Bus & Sis,
I have been trying to write this ever since we ate chow and I mean chow. I have been so full I haven't been able to write.

We had a swell chow. Turkey, stuffing, sweet potatoes, oranges, apples, nuts, fruit cake, mince pie and mixed candy. (left out pickles, string beans and peas and a pie of Butts.) What more would a soldier want for a Christmas dinner, especially at war time? We also got the day off....

I hope you had a pleasant and plentiful Christmas dinner. Next time I write I will send your Christmas presents. I probably won't get anymore of a chance to send birthday presents than I did Christmas presents. By the way, if you think of it, will you send me another birthday list? I left the one you sent me in my foot locker and God only knows when I will be able to get it. Not until the war is over anyway I guess.

I had to leave, and it is too dark to write now I guess. I was going to try and finish this by moonlight, but guess I had better wait another day so I can see my mistakes. I wrote this last paragraph by moonlight, not bad, or is it? Here it is the 26th, so you can see how long it takes me to write a letter.

CABINS IN THE PINES

THE cold of a New England winter doesn't bother the men who operate the pumping stations of the Esso pipe line, running from Portland, Me., to Montreal, P. Q. The four comfortable new cottages shown here are at the Raymond, Me., pumping station. Employees at all eight pumping stations on the 236-mile line live in similar homes.

Last week Eli Stearns went "up the line" with a car of apples. He reports the storm and cold severe but he was fortunate in disposing of his apples at a good price.

Locke Mills—Nelson Bartlett of East Bethel has been loading a car of potatoes at this station the past week, paying 65 cents per bushel. They come in slowly as the farmers are holding them for a better price.

I was with the others....

We had as nice a Christmas as was possible under the circumstances. You were saying that you came near having a green Xmas. I had one. That is about the only reason it didn't seem like Xmas. Honolulu was well lit up with lights, but on account of the continuous blackout they only showed one or two lights....

Load of love, Henry.

GOULD ACADEMY . . .

Mr. White of the Jackson-White Studios of Portland was at the school Monday and Tuesday to take individual pictures of the Senior Class for the year book. He also took group pictures of Senior Class, Girls' Athletic Council, Varsity Glee Club, Editorial Board, and the Student Council.

Wednesday night at the South Paris-Gould basketball game the students and patrons were entertained between games by the Academy band and between the halves of the Varsity game by a "skit" making use of old time songs. This was presented by the band and members of the school, under the direction of Miss Soule and Mr. Batterman.

Miss Griggs, the music instructor, has been confined to her room for the last two days because of an attack of grippe. Mr. Fossett was called out of town Wednesday by the sudden illness of his father.

There will be a special committee appointed by the executive officers of the Outing Club to form plans for the choosing of the Carnival Queen who will be coronated at the Fryeburg-Gould basketball game Friday evening in the Farnsworth House.

The students at the Academy are enjoying the best skiing and skating conditions of the year, and nearly every student is taking part in some form of outdoor activity. This has been made possible by the development of the skating rink on the athletic field. The students have been quite active this year in developing for themselves the outdoor facilities for these two sports. It was their own effort and work that was responsible for our fine skiing slope and jump at Swan's Corner and the skating rink which they have cleared and flooded themselves.

The boys, under the direction of Mr. Anderson and Mr. Ireland, have been making plaques in the metal division of the Manual Arts Department which will be presented to the "place winners" in the Maine Interscholastic Ski Meet which will be held here at Bethel Feb. 27 and 28. Especially designed posters are being sent out this week to all high schools in Maine having outing clubs and also to other places where the posters will be displayed announcing the Maine Interscholastic Ski Meet. The plans are to hold the downhill race at Bridgton on Pleasant Mountain Feb. 27. The main three events, the slalom, crosscountry, and jumping, will be held at Bethel on Saturday, Feb. 28.

Preliminary reports have been sent to the following colleges by students in the Senior Class of Gould Academy: Whipple Abbe to Maryland University, Marjorie Alvard to Connecticut State College, Jane Chesley to Wheaton, Donald Clark to University of Maine, Fremont Ireland and Seabury Short to Middlebury College, Maxine Flanders to Skidmore, Frank Murdoch and Charles St Thomas to Bates, Claire Reid to Smith, Ruth Bennett to Farmington Normal School. Several other members of the Senior Class are contemplating applications but have not yet fully decided upon the place.

The Alumnae played against the Gould girls on Thursday of last week in the William Bingham Gymnasium and won with a score of 17-15. The summary:

LIFE LINE OF THE FAR EAST

Burma Road Hums As Far East War Spreads

RANGOON, Burma.—Every day and every night, the whir of 3,000 loaded trucks hums and re-echoes over the rocky gorges and deep ravines which surround the vital road bringing supplies from the democracies of the West to the heart of blockaded China. Toppling mountain ranges and slithering through malarial valleys, narrowing to 9 feet in some places and widening to 16 in others, what was once a caravan route for Chinese silk merchants has now become a 1,500-mile highway connecting China with her Allies.

When Japanese invaders seized the China coast in 1937, the Burma Road was only a muddy trail for mule trains carrying native produce from and to China. But China, anticipating severance from the outside world, had already allocated $2,000,000 for the construction of a modern road from Lashio, terminus of the Burma railroad, to Kunming, China. Every county along the proposed highway was assigned its stretch of the road. From villages and towns bordering the old silk route poured almost 1,000,000 workers, men, women and children, bringing food, pickaxes, make-shift shelters. Many of the workers died from malaria; often monsoons washed away sections of the new road; but the work persisted. In two years, 800 miles of road crossing nine 5,000-foot ridges were completed. By 1939 American-made trucks were carrying Red Cross supplies and munitions 1,500 miles from Lashio to Chunking, China's war capital.

Today, with Japanese forces spreading fan-wise over the entire southwest Pacific area, this vital link to China from British Burma is a key in Allied military strategy. With a monthly capacity of 40,000 tons, the Burma highway has seen an increase in the transport of military supplies from 3,800 tons to 17,500 tons in four months, and this in the face of increased raids by Japanese bombers. Planes have arrived at Rangoon to reinforce the American-built—and partly American-manned—Curtiss P-40's (or "Tomahawks") which now patrol the road. Anti-aircraft guns are being mounted at the two suspension bridges over the Salween and Mekong Rivers, and Chinese armies have taken up stations in Burma, facing the Japanese forces in occupied Thailand.

Meantime, American engineers are working at top speed to complete a new parallel Burma-to-Kunming railway which will triple the amount of materials now reaching China. This, at last, will give China an alternate route for the arms and equipment which she needs so vitally to carry on her long and heroic fight against her enemy and ours: Japan.

Army

The President signed the Fourth Supplemental National Defense Bill carrying a $12,600,000,000 appropriation for 35,000 Army planes and equipment. War Secretary Stimson plans to speed training of 80,000 pilots, observers, navigators and other personnel to match airplane production. War Secretary Stimson announced 20,000 men have been released for duty with combat troops since the Army began replacement of enlisted men engaged in clerical and housekeeping activities by civilian employees some of them women. He said entrance requirements for officer candidate schools have been changed to allow qualified enlisted men from 18 to 45 to win commissions within six months.

Navy

The House passed and sent to the Senate a record naval appropriation bill of $18 billion in cash and an additional $4 billion in contract authorizations to build the Navy to unprecedented strength. The Senate Appropriations Committee, at the request of President Roosevelt, added another $6 billion to the bill to strengthen the naval air arm. The Marine Corps announced regulations for enlistment of 6,000 men 30 to 50 for guard duty at naval shore stations. The Corps revised requirements to permit only college juniors and seniors and qualified enlisted men to enroll in its reserve officers' candidate class. The Navy waived minimum age requirement of 25 years for leaders, leadingmen and quartermasters in Navy yards and plants under Navy jurisdiction. The Navy is recruiting skilled construction workers for work at naval bases outside continental United States.

Production

The Army Ordnance Department estimated it has been spending $21 million a day for the past five weeks for 1,200 various types of items including ammunition, small arms, artillery, tanks, etc. The Army announced, its new 105 mm. howitzer is now in mass production. War Production Chairman Nelson told a meeting in New York City the job facing businessmen is to rush war contracts through to completion without stopping to count the cost."

The War Production Board announced a simplified production requirements plan to speed conversion of small manufacturers doing less than $100,000 business a year. The Board also set up a special section to collect information on all vacant industrial buildings so the Army and Navy procurement branches can award contracts in such a way as to utilize these buildings.

Conversion of Automobile Industry

Ernest Kanzler, WPB official in charge of converting the automobile industry to war production said the industry up to Jan. 16 had orders for $8 billion worth of guns, tanks, planes and other war material. He said the industry's present employment of 500,000 workers may be doubled when peak war production is reached late this year. He said lack of machine tools is the present bottleneck in the conversion effort but labor supply may be the next big problem.

Allens

Attorney General Biddle ordered all German, Japanese and Italian nationals to leave specified vital areas in San Francisco and Los Angeles by Feb. 24. Mr. Biddle said 27 additional prohibited areas recommended by the War Department would be published later.

Priorities and Allocations

The Senate passed and sent to the House a second War Powers Bill extending the Government's requisitioning power and carrying criminal penalties for violations of the priorities system.

The WPR cut radio production by 40 percent prohibited the use of aluminum except on war contracts, and restricted consumption of nickel, brass and copper for advertising and decorative purposes to 50 percent of last year. The Board also announced it will withhold a percentage of canned goods in 1942 to insure ample supplies of certain foods for the armed forces.

War Production Chairman Nelson placed full authority in the Office of Price Administration to ration all goods and commodities sold on the retail market and for goods to satisfy personal needs. Price Administrator Henderson said a 19-page booklet a plan for full employment following the war.

initial sugar sales under the rationing plan to be inaugurated next month probably will be restricted to 12 ounces a week for each individual. The Department of Justice announced the Anti-trust Division is investigating the practice of requiring customers to purchase designated amounts of groceries in order to obtain limited amounts of sugar.

Labor

Labor Secretary Perkins said labor shortages require temporary "relaxation in accepted standards," and asked labor and management to place war production on a 24-hour, 7-day basis immediately. WPB Labor Director Hillman announced ratification by unions and owners of an agreement for continuous shipbuilding operations on the Pacific coast. The agreement will be extended to the Atlantic, Gulf and Great Lakes zones. Mr. Hillman said. A WEEK OF THE WAR

Summarizing Information on the Important Developments of the Week, Made Available by Official Sources, through and including Friday

President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill created three American and British munitions, shipping and raw materials. The boards will confer with representatives of the Soviet Union, China, and others of the 26 United Nations as necessary "to attain common purpose." U. S. representatives are: Harry Hopkins, Munitions Board; Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, Shipping Board; and William L. Bissell, Raw Materials Board.

The President told his press conference great progress has been made in unification of American Army and Navy commands. He said such unification has been going on for the past two months and does not result from the Pearl Harbor inquiry board report. Mr. Roosevelt said he still is studying this report which placed the blame for lack of American alertness at Hawaii on Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, but Presidential Secretary Early indicated further action in regard to the commanders will rest with Navy Secretary Knox and War Secretary Stimson.

Price Control Legislation Signed
President Roosevelt signed the Price Control Bill which provides for a license system to enforce price regulations, calls for a single administrator and contains provisions to permit farm prices to rise as high as 110 percent of parity.

The President said, however, he may ask Congress to correct certain gaps in the bill, particularly the agriculture provisions. He said the prohibition against farm price ceilings at least 110 percent of parity is a direct threat to the cost of living, although the licensing, rent control and other provisions are useful weapons against inflation. The Department of Agriculture reported the average of farm product prices on January 15 was 102 percent of parity.

The War Front

The Army reported the Japanese were making heavy reinforcements in the Philippines preparatory to resumption of a large scale offensive against General MacArthur's forces which were continuing to hold strong positions in the Batangas Peninsula. In the Philippine area U. S. forces destroyed a 5,000-ton enemy vessel and at least five enemy planes, while in the Macassar Straits, Army and Navy forces sank three large enemy transports, two more after torpedoed an aircraft carrier, blew up another large ship and scored hits which probably sank others. The Army announced United States Army forces arrived in Northern Ireland, and Maj. Gen. James E. Chaney took over command of all U. S. Army forces in the United Kingdom. President Roosevelt told his press conference this force is one of six, eight or 10 American expeditionary forces outside the U. S. in various parts of the world. U-boat activity resulted in the sinking off the Atlantic coast of two American ships and a Norwegian tanker. The U. S. garrison at Midway Island sank an enemy submarine attempting to attack the island.

Army

The President signed the Fourth Supplemental National Defense Bill carrying a $12,600,000,000 appropriation for 35,000 Army planes and equipment. War Secretary Stimson plans to speed training of 80,000 pilots, observers, navigators and other personnel to match airplane production. War Secretary Stimson announced 20,000 men have been released for duty with combat troops since the Army began replacement of enlisted men engaged in clerical and housekeeping activities by civilian employees some of them women. He said entrance requirements for officer candidate schools have been changed to allow qualified enlisted men from 18 to 45 to win commissions within six months.

Navy

The House passed and sent to the Senate a record naval appropriation bill of $18 billion in cash and an additional $4 billion in contract authorizations to build the Navy to unprecedented strength. The Senate Appropriations Committee, at the request of President Roosevelt, added another $6 billion to the bill to strengthen the naval air arm. The Marine Corps announced regulations for enlistment of 6,000 men 30 to 50 for guard duty at naval shore stations. The Corps revised requirements to permit only college juniors and seniors and qualified enlisted men to enroll in its reserve officers' candidate class. The Navy waived minimum age requirement of 25 years for leaders, leadingmen and quartermasters in Navy yards and plants under Navy jurisdiction. The Navy is recruiting

UPTON

Mrs. C. A. Judkins, Correspondent

This clamping down on tires and new cars, where you can't get a new one unless it is for military or defense use, is not going to work out so bad. It will maybe even work out good around some fire-sides. I got in mind the cars you see parked at the night clubs, and at the afternoon bridge clubs, etc. If the U. S. would take over these cars and tires it would equip a moose of an army.

With no afternoon bridge, many tired papas would get a break too, and not have to wait around for mama—who has been nibbling cake all afternoon—who thinks a couple sardines should be okay for dinner for the old head of the house. And look at the tin we would save if we got more cornbread and pot-roast versus tidbit's from a tin can.

And the younger squirts—19 and under—keep them home too and save more rubber. They are not going anywhere. They are just ridin'. We gotta win this war.

Yours with the low down,

JO SERRA

GOULD LOSES THRILLING OVERTIME GAME 28-27

In a game packed with thrills, Gould Academy and Fryeburg Academy battled to a 24-24 tie in the regulation playing time at Fryeburg Friday evening. In the three minute overtime Gould, without the services of their center Richmond, was finally nosed out 28-27 as Fryeburg sank two field goals as the locals made three free throws. Before a wildly cheering crowd that packed all available standing room the winners maintained a comfortable lead until near the end of the third period. In the fourth period the "Blue and Gold" overhauled their rivals and stepped into their first lead since the opening moments of the game. The Fryeburg team then developed a case of jitters as the Bethel outfit outplayed them, but then the break came as Richmond went out of the game and the Fryeburg team scored baskets to go into a lead again. Gould immediately tied up again as the game ended.

Doughty with 13 points and D. Haley with 10 proved the red scorers for the winners while St. Thomas and Amato with 11 and 7 were wild losers in the local boys' play.

The Gould J. V.'s suffered a real beating 31-9 as they played their poorest game of the year.

OXFORD HILLS AND LAKES

In the hotels, sporting camps and private cottages which are so plentiful in Maine and Oxford County, others will undoubtedly prefer the inland spots in place of the coastal attractions. These and perhaps other factors may well result in a bigger and better vacation business for Oxford County!

The Oxford Hills and Lakes Region Association is worthy of your moral and financial support. There is no better medium through which the unlimited attractions and unique beauty of Oxford County can be sold to the summer vacationer.
